Editorial

In this issue is concluded what I believe is the first article presented in The Springbok relating to a "cover" designer, in this case H J de WET. Despite widely differing views on postal necessity such covers do form a mark of social commentary, also publicity of the country's History, in itself worthy of interest. In publishing the more illustrative part the author has recently brought to my notice that the postmark date of 1 May 1959 on the Houses of Parliament appears to pre-date Reiser's HP4 by some three years.

Our long-term London resident makes a plea for members near London, or infrequently visiting, to come to all or part of a Meeting. Whilst understanding that Saturday travel by rail may be marred by the anti-social, early evenings are less likely to be so and the Waterloo-bound members are away from there by 9.45pm which does make a later return home, but I do feel the relaxation of a Museum visit followed by the evening's exchange of views a trip worth taking.

As the Spring Exhibition in London will have passed I can only speculate on what you will have seen or may have found. With murmurings of a London 1995 Exhibition it is not too early to sow the idea of striving to achieve more recognition, certainly a meeting ought to be managed. Our membership total is pretty static, although the actual membership does change albeit moderately and seemingly not necessarily by personal introduction. One regrets to see the retirements from collecting of founder members, but the years do dim the sight and cramp the fingers, yet the interest remains for some time after active participation I feel sure.

With regard to taking part, your results of careful study are welcome as impulsive response, pleas for contact or help also. Yet our good friend the Production Editor put his finger on a notably vacant spot when he questioned the whereabouts of more general items that can arouse interest or show a fresh line of approach to members' researches or even start off an extension from modest collecting into some degree of special study. Any takers?

DWP, Hon. Editor

THE QUEEN ELIZABETH II CORONATION STAMP

The editor has forwarded to me replies which two members have very kindly submitted to clear up the point which I raised in "Query Spot" (The Springbok 38 (5) p.112) concerning the Queen Elizabeth II Coronation Stamp of South Africa (SAC/H 118) - namely, do sheets from cylinder 98 exist with both arrangements of the panes, due to transposition of cutting, as stated in the Golden Jubilee Edition of the Handbook catalogue (1960)? Or was this edition somehow in error, as implied by the amendments in Vol. II (1964), which are carried through into the Definitive Edition of 1986?

Alan Cains of Ilfracombe reports matching blocks from each cylinder covering exactly the same part of the sheet as mine (stamps 9, 10, central gutter, 11 and 12 from rows 1 to 6, with top and bottom sheet margins) - but the location of varieties on his blocks is exactly the opposite from their location on mine. He also describes a number of smaller blocks, and makes the point that the colour of the stamps varies widely in printings from both cylinders; so that colour alone cannot be used to allocate stamps to printings from one cylinder or the other.

Fred Clark of Derby also reports a similar block of 24 from cylinder 66, which shows the same varieties as Alan Cains' block. More importantly, he has a complete sheet (both panes and central gutter) from cylinder 98 with V3 present on Row 6/11; and he has charted the positions of all the catalogued varieties on this sheet. By chance I also, since submitting my query for publication, have acquired another large block, including the central gutter, from cylinder 98 with V3 present on Row 6/11.

The location of the catalogued varieties on Fred Clark's sheet from cylinder 98 is as follows:

V1	-	Row 2/17
V2	Row 4/9	-
V3	-	Row 6/11
V4	-	Row 1/11
V5	-	Row 1/20
V6	-	Row 2/11
V7	Row 3/9	-
V8	Row 4/7	-
V9	Row 5/5	-

So, from the information now to hand, we are in a position to make two unequivocal statements:

(i) the position described in the 1960 Handbook catalogue is correct - transposition of panes (due to transposition of cutting) did occur in sheets printed from both cylinders, and the 1986 Definitive Edition needs to be corrected on this point; and

(ii) the Handbook catalogue sometimes locates varieties in the wrong pane with reference to the position of the "key" variety, V3. A correct catalogue entry should, therefore, read as follows:

118 2d. Deep violet-blue. Shades of ultramarine

EDITOR TO VISIT BOGNOR CONVENTION

The Editor hopes to be in Bognor Regis on 20 April for the Spring Convention of the ASPS (Association of Sussex Philatelic Societies), which is to be held at the United Reformed Church Hall in Linden Road. He will be delighted to meet any West Sussex or Hampshire members who are there. Bognor is proverbially bracing, and the ASPS conventions are generally lively, with quality displays and several dealers in attendance, so why not make a day of it?-

SOUTH AFRICAN REVENUE STAMPS

QUERY No. 1

I am in a dilemma over the items of KG5 and other issues being overprinted with CUSTOMS DUTY and those with DOUANE.

KG5, the 1st Issue, are overprinted with "CUSTOMS DUTY", see Sherwood's catalogue, page 34, foot, where he also made an amendment to delete the word "DOUANE" and substitute with "DUTY". So far so good.

The next item 1926... is a mixture of both overprints, however it does differentiate the two types of overprint but does not separate the London and Pretoria printings of the halfpenny and 1d stamps, simply stating RECESS. This also applies to the 1927 listing.

In my humble opinion these listings from 1926 are in error with the mixture of both overprints. I suggest that the CUSTOM DUTY overprints should precede those of DOUANE as I cannot visualise a printer using two types of overprint on the same type of job.

The usual type of South African catalogues do not list REVENUE STAMPS, even the very early catalogues.

LOBDELL's book The De La Rue Georgians of South Africa, page 63, reads and I quote:

2. CUSTOMS DUTY: The following denominations were overprinted "CUSTOMS/ DUTY", letters 1.5mm high and CUSTOMS 15.5 long in black (fig 52) halfpenny, 1d., 2d., 3d. black and orange-red, 3d. blue and blue, 4d., 6d., (two shades) and 1/-. The same overprint was also applied in red to the 3d. black and orange-red and the 6d. (157)

Footnote (157) refers to the Act of 1914, Customs Tariff Act. From that we know that Sherwood's listing was precise except the mention of the 6d. shades. I have had a quick look through the early issues of the South African Philatelist, and it does not reveal anything about South African material, however, it does refer to Revenues of the U.S.A. and of two covers from South Africa to Southern Rhodesia, bearing the then current Revenue Stamps and postally used without any surcharge. However, persisting in further search I found that the Revenue stamps were listed under "STAMPS PRINTED" and later on an article, which will follow.

Vol 3, pages 115 & 116 of this magazine does give a little information.

AN APPEAL - To those members who live within a reasonable distance

Mr Cattell who lives in Weston-Super-Mare will not be able to attend meetings at present, due to the costs of travel and the poor railway travel times. He is not the only one to suffer in this way, so we welcome you to the meetings. The meeting place is quite near Waterloo railway station and Lambeth North Underground station, buses are frequent to and from the area. The lighting in the room is quite good, the companionship is better and all take part in Committee matters but cannot vote. Perhaps you did not realise that our members are often called upon to give "expert" opinions on material from the Royal. Queries - well we do our best to answer them, please remember we cannot answer unless you TELL us.

MEETING IN LONDON - December 11th 1990

This meeting was not as well attended as one would have desired, however early telephone calls and an even earlier letter give valid reasons for their absence, it would have been a great pleasure to welcome other faces unknown to us and whom we would be pleased to meet. There was plenty of room and refreshments.

After discussing business, we had the usual glass of sherry with sausage rolls and mince pies... This Christmas ritual was arrived at in the most unusual way.

One of the early telephone calls intimated that he would bring the usual bottle and snacks if Jim Nunnally could not attend. I had previous conversation with friend Jim and he was not positive (this was during the recent bad weather) so I undertook to do the honours. Later Jim telephoned and said that he was unable to attend (he is a little younger than me but has a greater distance to travel). After the ritual of cleaning the hands with "Baby's wipes" it was down to the showing.

Tony Chilton:

Tony opened with a stock book page of early Mozambique, essays, double overprints. Then a complete sheet of the 16c + 10c Natal Flood disaster stamps. Followed by a small stock book of Revenues of SWAZILAND (not in Sherwood's catalogue) with issues from 1893.

Fred Clark from Derby:

G.B. phosphorlines on issues from 1961 with one or multiple phosphor lines, all in blocks of 4 or larger.

Alec Page from Kent:

Early Czechoslovakia overprints on Hitler stamps of Bohemia & Moravia. Many types of these shown from the known 650 types - each town apparently did their own overprinting.

Myself:

As it was other than South Africa, I took along a small collection of G.B. Crown pieces (5/- not the regal crowns etc.) from KG5 to the modern, a 2 pound piece and sets of the decimal issues. The first, and modern issues in "mint" condition, are in special cases...

And so it was to wish all a Happy Christmas and a pleasant New Year.
